

Maybe I will erase his name from my mind
I can't erase your body from my heart
If you are leaving, don't say you love someone else
I can't love someone else like you

You held my hand, now you let go
I can't know the trace of his hand anymore
First in the dark, I would see you
Now in clarity, I can't choose

Everywhere I looked, I would see you
Now I can't see if I want to
Maybe I looked for the door and found it
Too bad you closed it, I can't come
